Two Kinds of People

by Randy Anderson

In my life,
I've come to find
When you look at people,
there's only two kinds.

There are those that do,
and those that don't.
Those who will,
and those who won't.

There are those that can,
and those that can't.
Those who shall
and those who shan't.

Types of people?
There's only two.
The question is
"Which one are you?"
