The F's of Failing at Leadership

e3 PROFESSIONAL TRAINERS

- Fakers – Try to be something they aren't
- Fad-ologists – Look for the latest management trend
- Floaters – Drift whatever way the current takes them
- Free Wheelers – Have no real plan or strategy
- Feelers – Want to find out how everyone feels before they make a decision
- Flunkies – They're nothing more than a "yes man" for "THE man"
- Fearers of Failure – Paralyzed by the slightest risk of falling short
- Fame Seekers – Want ALL the credit
- Fortifiers – Their primary concern is protecting/preserving what is already in place
- Flashers – Show everything when they should be more judicious
- Fortresses – Build a wall around themselves and don't let anyone else in
- Fault Finders – Constantly find things to criticize
- Fear Mongers – Use threats, scream, fire, etc. to scare people into following
- Flyers – Moving so fast that they leave their followers behind

Randy Anderson | 806.787.3474 | randy@e3professionaltrainers.com | www.e3professionaltrainers.com